Welcome to Public Health Foundation Bangladesh Blog

Public Health Foundation Bangladesh (PHFBD) welcomes diverse public health issues that create value and impact. A simple guideline can help you write the blog effectively. Therefore, below are some guidance that we recommend you follow.

Guidelines for author:

- The blog should have a catchy, short title that appropriately reflects your blog.
- A blog or commentary that is no longer 600 words.
- Co-authored article are welcome.
- The author's name, designation, and email should be mentioned in the email or blog writing document.

Submission process and publication timeline:

- Once you have finalized the blog writing, then send your materials via email to the following: publichealthfoundationbd@gmail.com
- The subject of the email: Blog for Public Health Foundation Bangladesh
- After getting the article, the responsible person of PHFBD will communicate as required.
- Generally, the blog will be posted on the site within three weeks after receiving the content if there is no editorial issue.
- The post will be circulated on the PHFBD website and social media sites, including Facebook and LinkedIn.
